

PHYSICIANS WILL HOLD CONFERENCE

Doctors of the City and County Given Invitation to Discuss Scarlet Fever Epidemic.

TWENTY-ONE CASES REPORTED

Parents Urged to Keep Children Off the Streets in Compliance With Closing Notice.

A meeting, to which all the physicians in Seymour and Jackson county have been invited to attend, will be held here Thursday afternoon for the purpose of discussing the scarlet fever epidemic and the best manner of stamping it out. The physicians are interested in preventing a more widespread epidemic and it is believed that some valuable suggestions will be obtained from such a conference. There was one additional case reported today, making a total of twenty-one, several of the patients having been released from quarantine during the past few days.

Since the general closing notice was issued the officers report that a number of children under sixteen years have been seen upon the streets and the health board urges parents to use more diligence in keeping their children at home. Under the provisions of the closing notice, children under that age are not permitted to go upon the street unless accompanied by their parents. The board of health declared that the length of time for which the quarantine will be maintained depends upon the parents, for if they obey the notice carefully the epidemic can be stamped out within a short time.

Fortunately none of the cases which have been reported are regarded as serious, and with a few exceptions the cases are light. The members of the health board say that this is one reason why every precaution should be taken, for many persons who are under quarantine are not confined to their beds, but if they do not obey the quarantine closely other persons are apt to take the fever.

The report that the health board intended to quarantine the city is without foundation, for the members of that board have never considered such action. The epidemic is not serious enough to take such steps, and unless many more cases are reported no further quarantine will be established.

During the time that the various public places are closed the buildings will be thoroughly disinfected. An inspector will be appointed to supervise the work and will remain on the premises until the work is completed. No chances will be taken because of a failure to properly fumigate the buildings.

ARGUMENT TO BE HEARD

Wednesday on a Demurrer Filed in Goecker vs. McOsker Case.

The contest case of William Goecker vs. Jerry McOsker for the office of sheriff will be up in circuit court Wednesday for argument on a demurrer filed by the defense. The demurrer sets forth that the five specifications of the complaint do not constitute good ground for action. There is quite an array of attorneys in the case.

John M. Lewis, Frank Jones and Judge Montgomery represent the plaintiff while S. A. Barnes, Brannaman & Brannaman, and Kauchenour & Prince represent McOsker.

POPULATION OF COLUMBUS.

Unofficial Report Gives City 9,500 Inhabitants.

The local enumerators at Columbus have completed the recount of the population of that place, and while the count has not been completed, it is estimated that there are about 9,500 people in the city. East Columbus, which is not included in the corporate limits of the city, numbered 1,512 inhabitants.

The recount was made in the same manner as it was here, although the enumerators were three days in taking the enumeration. Many of the citizens expected the enumeration would show that the city had 10,000.

Last Day.

Today is the last day for the payment of the dog tax, and the clerk has issued quite a number of licenses since the office was opened this morning. City Marshal Abell declares that he will enforce the ordinance more rigidly this year than ever before. He intends to take all dogs not wearing the required tags to the pound, and if this is done the owners will be placed at considerable expense to recover their property. The penalty for not paying the tax may be collected tomorrow.

FIRE BELL SILENT FOR TWO MONTHS

No Fires During Months of January and February, Establishing New Record for Department.

USUALLY A BUSY SEASON

Chief Everhart Believes That Citizens Have Exercised Precaution For Protection of Property.

If there are no fire alarms sounded before 12 o'clock tonight the department will have a new record for the months of January and February, as it will be the first time since the organization of the present company that there has not been at least one fire during the first two months of the year. The firemen look upon the winter months with more or less anxiety, for at this time of the year the furnaces and heating plants in residences are heated to their capacity, and almost every year there are several fires from this cause. In the case of factories, however, the firemen say that fires are apt to occur at any time as the furnaces are fired all the year around.

The largest fire that has occurred in Seymour for many years was that of the Ahlbrand Carriage Company, in April 1910. The record of the fire chief shows that the cause of the fire is unknown, although it was supposed to have started in one of the finishing departments.

During January and February of 1907, the first year that the department was located at the present quarters, there was only one fire, that of the Greemann Chair Co. which occurred on February 27. The loss of that fire was estimated at $700.

During the first two months of the following year there were four fires entailing a total damage of $163. Most of these fires occurred at dwellings.

January and February 1909 hold the record so far as the number of fires are concerned. In those two months there were seven alarms resulting in a total loss of $469.75. These also occurred in residences but the losses were covered by insurance.

During the first two months of last year there were three fires causing a damage of $20.

Fire Chief Walter Everhart said that he thought that the reason there had been no fires was because the citizens had exercised precaution during the winter and no risks were taken in starting or keeping the stoves and furnaces heated. The great majority of fires are the result of neglect or carelessness, and with the proper precaution would be prevented.

Although there have been no alarms to answer, the members of the department have found plenty of work to do and the report for the two months does not indicate that the firemen have been "loafing" all of the time. The horses and equipment must be cared for and everything kept in readiness for the moment's call.

After The Fire What?

There are two answers to that Gruesome Query. One spells total loss. Original investment gone, building and contents in ashes. A new start and many regrets.

THE OTHER, "a fire insurance policy," under which the loss is promptly adjusted, and settlement made in cash without discount when money is most needed.

ARRANGE BANK DISTRICTS.

William M. Whitson, of Scottsburg, Examiner of This District.

Harry L. Arnold, clerk of the banking department in the state auditor's office, yesterday completed the arrangements of districts, by counties, to be covered by the six bank examiners recently appointed by the state auditor. Under the new arrangement the examiner of trust companies is eliminated. Each examiner has charge of all banking institutions in his district.

The state is divided so as to give the various examiners as near an equal number of banks as possible. There are 621 institutions in the state, and the largest number of banks falling to any one examiner is 125, and the smallest 89.

William M. Whitson, of Scottsburg, is the examiner of district No. 5, which includes this county. There are 102 banks in the district. The other counties in this district are Harrison, Floyd, Clark, Washington, Scott, Jefferson, Switzerland, Ohio, Dearborn, Ripley, Jennings, Brown, Bartholomew, Decatur, Franklin, Johnson, Shelby, Rush, Fayette, Union, Wayne and Henry.

Under the old assignment three examiners looked after all banks in the state except trust companies, which were taken care of by one examiner for the entire state. The new examiners will assume their duties of office March 1.

The Indiana state legislature will adjourn this week, and before that time there is much to be done, if the solons make a record that will be satisfactory to the people. Considerable time has been given to liquor measures, and the question is not yet settled.

Editor Charles Seifert of the Washington Herald, is now being mentioned for United States marshal for Indiana. A special from the National Capitol says:

It appeared for a time today as if the fate of Edwin M. Lee, candidate for United States marshal, had been definitely settled, but it was stated by Secretary Norton this evening that the President was not yet ready to make an announcement in regard to the matter. There is already a big crop of aspirants who believe they answer the requirements. Among the latest mentioned for the marshalship are Winfield Miller and Col. Oran Perry of Indianapolis, Robert A. Brown of Frankfort and Charles G. Seifert of Washington.

WERE ROBBED IN HORSE CAR

Four Bums Held Up On B. & O. S-W. Near Fleming By Two Other Free Travelers.

WATCH AND MONEY TAKEN

Finally Forced From Train and Walked to Seymour.—Asked Help Here.

Four well dressed bums blew into town about 10 o'clock last night with a sad story of hold-up and robbery that won them a substantial quantity of free sandwiches from the late patrons of a local restaurant.

The four men failed to give their names or report to the police and it is supposed left town. They stated that they were going west over the B. & O. traveling incognito and without baggage and in a palace horse car. Two other bums were free passengers in the same Pullman and when near Fleming the two pulled revolvers and advancing on the four commanded them to deliver up all their property. Being unarmed the four were forced to comply with the demand and gave up a watch and other articles besides the small quantity of money they had among them.

The two were not satisfied with their robbery and their actions with their guns finally became so threatening that the lives of the four were endangered and when the train slowed up a little they were forced to jump off. They walked into Seymour. They were fairly well dressed and claimed they were enroute from Cincinnati to Illinois to a prospective job and were beating their way on the train to save the little money they had for expenses.

The police were on the watch today but were unable to locate them, and it is supposed they moved on.

There have been an unusually large number of tramps and bums in town during the past month or so and hardly a day passes that men do not present themselves at some homes asking for food, and telling hard luck stories. The majority of them present the appearance of professional tramps.

HALL OF FAME.

Daily Republican Starts Series of Pictures and Sketches Today.

This evening the Daily Republican begins publishing a series of pictures and sketches of men and women who have been thought worthy by their states to have a statue placed in the Hall of Fame in Washington, D. C. Each state in the Union is entitled to two representatives and most of the states have made their selection and have placed the statues in position. Indiana is represented by its war governor, Oliver P. Morton, and by one of its best known authors, Gen. Lew Wallace.

Pictures and sketches of the persons selected by the various states will appear one after another each evening until the list on hand is completed. They will make a splendid collection and school children who are interested in our country's history, will find them excellent material for a scrap-book, cutting them out evening by evening and pasting them into their book until they have the complete list.

Church Advertising.

Reverend Charles Stetzle, of New York, superintendent of the Presbyterian Department of Church and Labor, told a crowd of ministers at the McCormick Theological Seminary in Chicago, that every church should have an advertising manager and that newspapers should be used to "bring new business" to the churches.

The Reverend Mr. Stetzle is an advertising manager, press agent and producer of no mean capacity. He took an empty edifice over on the East Side and filled it to capacity with workingmen, and now has one of the largest and most enthusiastic congregations in the city.

His suggestion is a good one and a sound one. It ought to be adopted by some wide-awake church and tested out. There is no doubt in my mind that the present decadence of the church would be checked and new life given.—Newspaperdom.

AMENDMENT OFFERED

To the Proposed Block Signal Bill Would Weaken Law.

An amendment has been offered to the proposed block signal bill, which according to the railroad commission, if adopted, will practically make the law inoperative. The amendment, which was favored by the majority of the senate committee, was drawn so as to permit the railroad commission to order any block signal system which is approved by the American Railway Association. The bill as it passed the house provided for an automatic, manual block or manual controlling block, or other system "approved by the railroad commission."

The weakness of the present law regarding block signal systems is that it provides that the commission may order "an approved system," but does not specify by whom the system shall be approved. Therefore, the commission, instead of being able to accomplish the signal blocking of railways, has been blocked by the railways.

Under the proposed majority committee plan, it is pointed out, the railroads would be the jury in their own case. They could install any kind of system they pleased, which might be one not at all satisfactory to the commission. The American Railway Association also is a body over which the railway commission has no jurisdiction, and into whose acts or records the commission has no power to inquire. It is pointed out that the commission would not even have the power to compel this association to inform the commission what block signal systems it "approves."

LAWRENCE COUNTY "DRY."

First Election Under The New Proctor Law in The State.

Lawrence county voted "dry" Monday at the first election held in the state under the Proctor law. Elections were held in the cities of Bedford and Mitchell, and in six townships including Shawswick, in which the city of Bedford is located. The "dry" majority in Bedford was ninety-one and in Mitchell fifty-eight. Shawswick township will be "dry" by a vote of two to one, which is a decisive victory for the temperance people. All the other townships voted "dry" by safe majorities.

As this was the first election since the county local option law was repealed the outcome was awaited with much interest throughout the state. It was believed by many that Bedford would be in the "wet" column after another election, but from the election it seems that the people are not in favor of the open saloon.

There are several other elections in the state today, the counties holding elections being Tipton, Wabash, Fayette, Hamilton, Grant, Huntington, Howard, Switzerland, Pike, Putnam, Carroll, Fountain, Rush and Noble. On March 4 an election will be held in Jay county, and on the 7th in Shelby.

After the liner docked at the Hoboken pier the police of this city and Hoboken received from Mrs. Drummond herself a description of the jewelry, and this was sent broadcast. The police have little hope of getting the thief, and the officials of the Hamburg-American line say that unless the police solve the mystery, it is likely to be forever unsolved.

THE THIRD AUTO

By MIRIAM ELDRIDGE

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

"Your name, sir?" asked the clerk of the marriage license bureau.

"Edgar Clark Stewart," replied the gentleman.

"The lady's, please?"

"Cynthia B. Geddes."

The clerk filled out the license and handed it to the prospective groom, a pompous man, who laid down a five dollar gold piece in lieu of a fee and drew the lady away without waiting for the change.

A few days later the clerk asked the usual questions of a couple standing at his window.

"Gentleman's name?"

"Willis D. Rathbone."

"Lady's?"

"Cynthia Geddes."

The clerk looked aside at the lady. It seemed to him that he remembered giving a license for one of that name before. Not recognizing her face, he turned back the leaves of his book till he came to the names of Edgar Clark Stewart and Cynthia B. Geddes, noticed the "B." in the lady's name, concluded that it was a case of coincidence, wrote the certificate and handed it to the man.

"Tim!" remarked the recipient.

"All's well that ends well."

The same morning men were at work putting up an awning before a handsome dwelling in a residential portion of the city, and in the evening guests were to assemble for the reception after the wedding of Edgar Clark Stewart and Cynthia B. Geddes. The wedding was a notable one, for the contracting parties both stood high in social circles, the groom was rich, and the bride's parents were also blessed with a fortune. Automobiles were in attendance to convey the bride from her home to the church, where, as had been especially arranged, she was to meet the groom. Miss Geddes insisted on planning the affair to suit her own fancy, and it is a bride's privilege to have her own way in all things pertaining to her nuptials. She declared that her father and mother should proceed to the church in one auto, the others in another, while she and her sister, Miss Esther Geddes, would go in a third.

No one understood this whim, but no one thought of making any opposition to it. Indeed, the father and mother of the bride were only too delighted to give their daughter her own way in the matter of the wedding so long as she was yielding in marrying the man of their choice instead of her own. Mr. Geddes had worked hard for the fortune he had accumulated, and it is a well known fact that wealth assimilates with wealth. Mr. Stewart could match the pile of his father-in-law expectant.

At the door stood three autos. Into the first Mr. Geddes handed in his wife, then got in himself. Into the second entered two of the bride's aunts and a younger brother. Into the third stepped the bride and her sister. Usage required that the order and the disposition of persons be reversed, but the little procession started as stated.

The first auto drew up at the church, and the second auto did the same. But where was the third? Mr. Geddes stepped out on to the sidewalk and handed out his wife and looked about for his daughters. He sent the others present into the vestibule of the church and waited outside. If he had waited till the arrival of the third auto he would have been there to this very day.

But the third auto. The procession had no sooner started than it began to lag. At every street crossing the chauffeur seemed disposed to give place to all vehicles in his path. Finally, after quite a lengthy halt, starting up, at the next corner he turned aside and, being well out of sight of the autos in front, put on speed. There was a sputter, and the auto dashed away, leaving behind a fine odor of old lamps.

Half an hour later this third auto drew up before a parsonage ten or fifteen miles from the church where the wedding was to have taken place. The chauffeur handed the bride and her sister out, the three went into the parsonage, and the chauffeur handed a marriage license to the parson. It read Willis D. Rathbone and Cynthia Geddes.

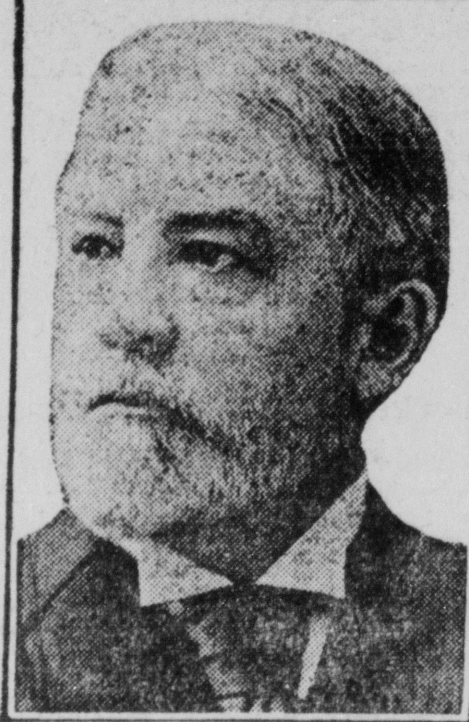

And so it was that while the gentleman of the first license was waiting at the church for his bride the gentleman of the second license was wedding the lady in a different part of the town. When the bridal party returned from the church and Mr. Geddes was telephoning to the police of the disappearance of a bride on the way to her wedding Miss Geddes junior rode up to the house in the third auto and reported that her sister had been kidnapped by the chauffeur.

Mr. Geddes fumed and swore that he would never forgive his daughter and all that, but when she returned from the honeymoon he thought better of it and gave her his blessing.

Now, there is no intention to recount this affair as being justifiable. It depends upon the standpoint from which one looks at elopements, especially where one lover is left in the lurch, whether it is justifiable or not. There is an adage, however, which was invented to cover such cases, and it does away with all criminality. It is "All's fair in love and war." Why love and war, which are the antipodes of each other, should be brought under the same rule is a matter that has never been satisfactorily explained.

PITIFUL TRAGEDY OF YOUTHFUL SPORTSMEN

One Illinois Lad Dead and His Brother Dying.

Fielden, Ill., Feb. 27.—His brother, William Miller, dead at his feet in the bottom of a skiff and himself badly wounded, Frederick Miller of Jerseyville, rowed a burning boat to shore and sank unconscious after he had staggered to a farmhouse.

William, fifteen years old, and Frederick, eighteen, went duck hunting on a lake. They were returning to their home by way of drainage ditch, when a shotgun was accidentally discharged, both being shot. William in trying to extinguish the flames in the boat, stepped on the other gun and it discharged, the bullets piercing his skull.

After landing the boat in which his brother's body lay, Frederick walked a quarter of a mile to his home. To his father, William Miller, who met him at the door, he gasped:

"Will is dead."

Then he collapsed. It was found that a charge of duck shot had entered his lung and his coat was burned. Physicians said that he had no chance to recover.

William Knowlton, a farmer, was found dead in his home near Mount Pleasant, Mich. His wife lay dying. Both were shot through the head, and it appeared that Knowlton had done the shooting.

United States Senator-Elect Kern has left Indianapolis for Washington and expects to be sworn in as a member of the senate immediately if an extra session of congress is called by President Taft.

The house of representatives voted overwhelmingly in favor of the policy of fortifying the Panama canal, and appropriated $3,000,000 to begin the work, the total cost of which has been estimated at $12,000,000.

Premier Briand of France has offered the cabinet's resignation on the ground that the Republicans in the chamber of deputies have systematically striven to prevent Briand from carrying out his program.

In a riot on a farm near Bellefontaine, O., Burr Kerns, a wealthy farmer, was killed. Gibson Beers, who shot him, and John Beers, his father, were rescued by the sheriff from a mob of Kern's friends as preparations were being made to lynch him.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

THINGS THAT COUNT.

It is not the rare gifts of the few; it is not great wealth, great learning, great genius or great power; it is not these things that make the possessors happy. It is health; it is friendship; it is love at home; it is the voices of children; it is sunshine; it is the blessings that are commonest, not rarest; it is the gifts God has scattered everywhere. — C. DREAD PLAGUE
STRIKES COASTSixteen Persons At Spokane
Victims of Disease.

THREE DEATHS ARE REPORTED

Mysterious Malady That For Weeks Had Defied Diagnosis Has Been Pronounced by Medical Experts of Washington State Board of Health to Be the Same Disease That Has Been the Scourge of the Orient.

Spokane, Wash., Feb. 28.—A mysterious disease that has claimed three victims in Spokane since Jan. 9 and has defied diagnosis has been pronounced by the medical experts of the state health board to be bubonic plague.

Sixteen persons have felt the heavy hand of the malady, three have died, three with a light attack are thought to have a chance of recovery, and the others are fighting for life.

The latest victim was William Preston Oliver, a prominent contractor, who died Sunday after two weeks' illness.

Four members of the local board of health, with Dr. E. L. Kimball, a member of the state medical board, performed a postmortem on the body of Mr. Oliver in an attempt to discover the exact nature of the disease. Specimens from the viscera were taken by Dr. Kimball to be sent to the marine hospital at Seattle for thorough examination.

MAKING IT STRONGER

Second Perjury Indictment Returned
Against George B. Cox.

Cincinnati, Feb. 28.—The second indictment returned by the grand jury against George B. Cox, Republican boss of Cincinnati, primarily intended to correct a slight technical error in the first, accuses him of perjury, the same as the first indictment did. It charges that he received $48,500 from John H. Gibson while the latter was county treasurer, as stated on the first indictment, and also $17,500 from Tilden R. French, while he was county treasurer. The indictment is based on the allegation that Cox in testifying before the grand jury in 1906, denied that he had received any of the illegal interest money from either of these men "or otherwise," or that he knew anything about the arrangements under which the county treasurers prior to 1906 received interest or gratuities as it was called on county funds deposited in banks. The allegation of perjury is based on the statement that Cox was under oath when he made that statement and that such statement was "willfully false and corrupt."

"We expect to get into the trial of the Cox case within two weeks," was the statement made by Prosecutor Hunt.

MAY LOSE CHARTERS

Illinois Firms Fail to Comply With the Law Concerning Reports.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 28.—Illinois corporations to the number of 5,000 are threatened with cancellation of their charters for failure to comply with the act requiring them to make annual report to the secretary of state between the first day of February and the first day of March. It is probable that Secretary of State Rose will allow a few days' grace in which delinquents may save themselves, after which time action will be instituted to cancel the charters of corporations that have failed to meet the law's requirement.

THEY BURROWED IN

Panama Bank Vault Looted by Clever and Daring Thieves.

Panama, Feb. 28.—Thieves effected an entrance into the offices of the Panama Banking company by means of a tunnel which extended for half a block to the bottom of the vault. Three Americans are said to have done the work, which occupied them for six months with the use of modern appliances. The thieves escaped in a gasoline launch. The amount of money the robbers secured cannot be definitely ascertained.

The Court Took Exceptions.

Memphis, Tenn., Feb. 28.—Because he used slang in court, J. W. Canada, attorney representing J. M. Dickinson, secretary of war, was fined by Judge Pittman and was warned "to be careful to use pure English hereafter." The attorney was examining a witness in condemnation proceedings instituted by the Memphis Terminal company for valuing property owned by the secretary of war. The court took exception to the attorney asking a witness how much money he had "tapped" and "hogged" from the company.

Lawrence County Remains Dry.

Bedford, Ind., Feb. 28.—Lawrence county, the first in the state to vote under the new Proctor local option law, has voted "dry" by majorities ranging from a few votes in some of the more remote townships, to ninety-eight in the county seat, Bedford.

EDWIN M. LEE

His Ambition to Be United States Marshal Is Blasted.

LEE LOSES OUT

President Declines to Appoint Him
United States Marshal.

Washington, Feb. 28.—The president has decided not to appoint Edwin M. Lee United States marshal for the district of Indiana. This decision has been announced officially. The president will take his time about filling the vacancy caused by the resignation of Henry C. Pettit. He expects to look around for a man who is not specially well known as a politician, but who does possess the qualifications of a good marshal. It can be said authoritatively that neither of the political factions in the state will be permitted to select the man.

Mr. Lee, it is announced, may have the choice of an auditorship in the treasury department at $4,000 a year or a place in the internal revenue service at $7 a day and an allowance for expenses. The impression prevails that Mr. Lee will accept one of these places.

COURT HEARS AN ECHO
OF THE GUNNESS CASEWoman Detained As Suspect
Sues the Railroad.

New York, Feb. 28.—The trial of a suit against the New York Central road for $30,000 damages is in progress before Justice Kapper and a jury in the supreme court in Brooklyn. Mrs. Cora B. Heeren alleges that she was taken from a berth in a Pullman car at Syracuse, having been mistaken for an Indiana murderess, Belle Gunness, whose farm it was discovered, after a fire that destroyed the farmhouse in 1908, had been used as a sort of graveyard in which to dispose of the bodies of her numerous victims.

Mrs. Heeren was on her way from Franklin, Pa., to Brooklyn. She testified that she was awakened, was forced to dress and with her mother, Mrs. Lucinda Burton, was taken to a police station, where they were detained until the following afternoon.

Mrs. Burton has brought a similar suit against the railroad company for a like amount.

New York, Feb. 28.—The trial of Joseph G. Robin on the charge of stealing $27,000 from the Washington Savings bank is in progress before Justice Seabury in the criminal branch of the supreme court.

MELANCHOLY

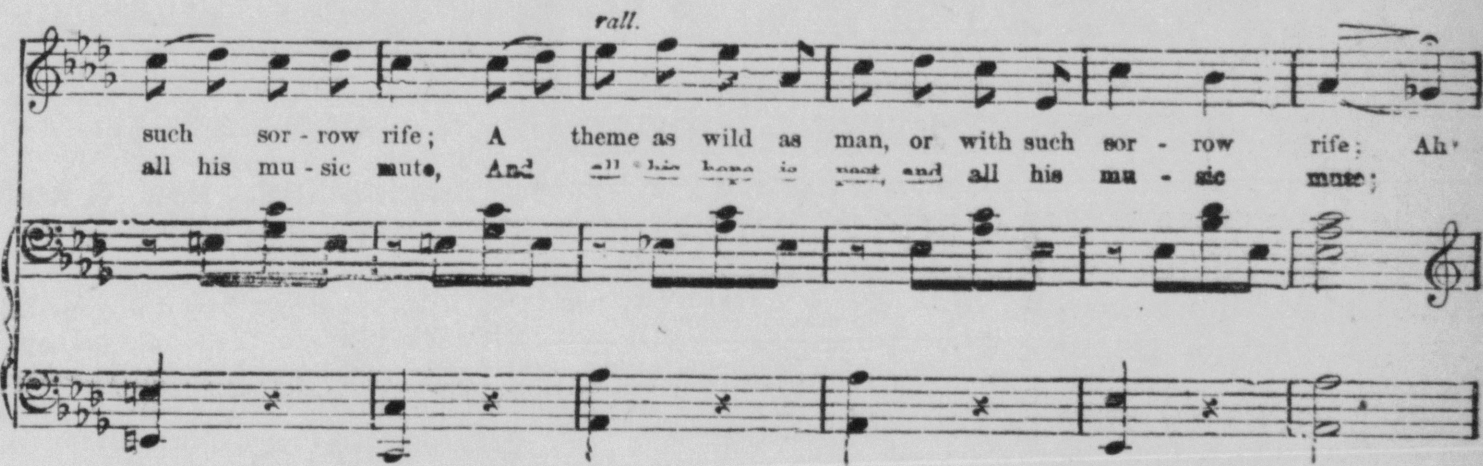

(HERZENSPEIN)

A beautiful song, sung by GERTRUDE WILLIAMS of the Sweet Kitty Bellaires Co.

1. Moan, moan, ye dy-ing gales! The sad-est of your tales is
2. Hush! hush! thou tremb-ling lyre, Si-lence, ye vo-cal choir, and not so sad as life; Nor have you e'er be-gan A theme so wild as man, Or with thou mel-o-dious lute, For—man soon breathes his last, And 'all his hope is past, And such sor-row rife; A theme as wild as man, or with such sor-row rife; Ah!

all his mu-sic mute, And all his mu-sic mute;

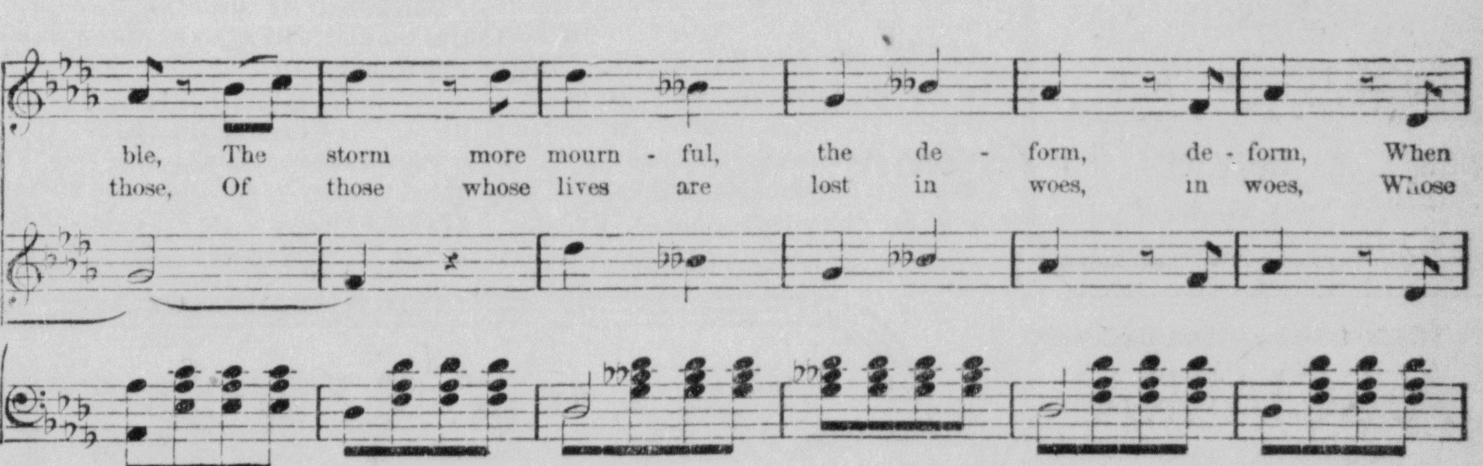

Fall, fall, thou wither-ed leaf; Au-tumn sears not like grief,
Then when the gale is sigh-ing; And the leaves are ly-ing, tutions. There is no question but that state universities should be amply provided for, but it seems to be taking a step too far when the legislature begins to place a ban upon the graduates of other schools.

The result of the local option election in Lawrence county Monday should be given serious thought by the Indiana law makers who are assembled at Indianapolis. The county local option law was repealed by the democratic legislature upon the theory that the majority of the people did not want the open saloon. If the outcome of the first election is significant of the sentiment throughout the state, the legislature will surely consider well before adjourning without enacting an additional regulation measure. It was believed that Bedford would vote "wet", because it was said that the law had been a failure. In the most cities where this argument has been advanced, it is not the law that has proven a failure, but the conditions are sometimes not satisfactory because of the neglect of the city administrations to enforce the provision of the law. In other words the failure to accomplish what the law intended is due to the city officials and not to the law itself.

Several other option elections will be held today and the outcome will be of interest in all parts of the state.

Columbus is rejoicing because the recount showed a population of 9,500. The citizens are so happy over the result that they have about decided to celebrate by purchasing a bear for the city park.

WORKING WOMEN

Here is a Helping Hand—A Newton Woman's Experience.

You know just how it is yourself—when you are tired out, perhaps a little run-down, and hardly able to drag around, life is a burden, you are irritable, nervous, depressed and every little task seems like a mountain.

Miss Katherine Burns, of Newton, Mass., says—"About six months ago I was in a run-down condition and my blood was very poor. I had taken several medicines prescribed by physicians, but they seemed to do me no good. Finally Vinol was recommended, and from the first bottle I noticed a great improvement. I have taken six bottles and I feel as well as ever, and I would recommend Vinol to anybody needing a good tonic to build them up and make them strong." (We guarantee this testimonial to be genuine.)

We want to ask every woman who finds herself in this condition to try Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic, without oil, with the understanding that their money will be returned if it does not help them.

We know Vinol will create an appetite, aid digestion, make pure, rich blood, and in this way build up and strengthen the run-down, overworked nervous system. You take no chances. Try it. The Andrews-Schwenk Drug Co.

LON PREWITT IS HOME FROM SOUTH

Big Contrast Between the Roses and Ripening Fruit of Texas and Snow Here.

HAD A PLEASANT VACATION

Greatly Impressed With the Climate and Opportunities of the South. —Interesting Sight.

Lon Prewitt who has been in Texas the past two months has returned home to begin work with Ewing Shields on the Princeton brick street contracts. Mrs. Prewitt will remain at San Antonio until warm weather. While in Texas Mr. Prewitt spent considerable time traveling over the southern part of the state and his observations served to strengthen the opinion formed on previous trips to the state, that Texas is a land of opportunities both for the young man without money and for the man with capital for investment.

People from the north continue to pour into the state in great numbers looking for locations and investments. Twice a week the northern excursion trains arrive loaded with the prospectors. To the man idling away a vacation in the boom sections it is an interesting sight to watch the arrival of these train loads of eager northerners and watch their encounters with the sociable real estate men who are thick everywhere.

Mr. Prewitt on this trip visited the big 14,000 acre farm of Charles P. Taft south of Beesville upon which a large amount of money is being spent in development. About 1,500 men are at work clearing the land and doing other work. Beesville is one of the greatest honey producing sections on the continent and Mr. Prewitt brought home with him a bucket of fine honey secured there.

The climate around San Antonio and through that section has been ideal this winter and there has not been a day in the past two months when barefoot boys could not be seen on the streets. When Mr. Prewitt left the roses were in full bloom and fruit was ripening fast.

THE SENATE IS IN A DEADLOCK

Endurance Test May Hold Until March 4.

A VOTE ON THE LORIMER CASE

This is the issue upon which hinges possibilities of a far-reaching character—in the end it may be the means of averting a special session through forcing a vote on the reciprocity measure.

Washington, Feb. 28.—The senate is in a deadlock, with no prospect of adjournment. A filibuster engineered by Senator Cummins of Iowa and Crawford of South Dakota is in full swing against a vote on the Lorimer case and Lorimer's supporters have announced their intention of turning the session into an endurance test and holding the senate together continuously until March 4 unless a vote is allowed on the resolution proposing to unseat the Illinois senator.

The advocates of a permanent tariff board have locked horns with the supporters of Senator Lorimer and decline to let that case come to a vote unless they are assured of action on the tariff board proposition. Several friends of Canadian reciprocity are hovering on the outskirts of this situation, with the intimation that they will demand action on that plan before they will give their consent to a vote on the Lorimer case.

The Lorimer resolution is, in fact, being held as a club over the heads of the tariff board opponents, and it is likely also to be invoked by the reciprocity advocates. It is conceded that fear on the part of the Lorimer senators that their case will be thrown over into a special session is now the only factor that may lead to a compromise and the averting of an extra session to consider reciprocity.

The Outspoken Mr. Bourne.

Senator Jonathan Bourne of Oregon, in the course of a speech last night in the senate, made an attack on President Taft and on ex-President Roosevelt. He charged that Roosevelt used the federal patronage to nominate his successor in office and to "thwart the will of the people."

"I have as much respect for the ward heeler who buys a vote with money as I have for the president who uses his federal patronage to influence the action of members of congress on pending legislation," said Mr. Bourne. "The Beverly letter issued last year, if we are to consider it authentic, confessed that federal patronage had been given to the senators and members who acted in accordance with the president's desires and was withheld from those who did not follow his desires in matters of legislation."

Senator Bourne's speech created a profound sensation. His accusations against the president were so pointed and serious that senators gravely discussed raising a question of order. The Oregon senator disagreed with President Taft some time ago over the appointment of a federal officeholder in Oregon. Formerly he was a frequent visitor at the White House and President Taft's almost daily companion on the golf links.

MOVING RIGHT ALONG

The House Rapidly Winding Up the Session's Affairs.

Washington, Feb. 28.—The house agreed to the conference report on the legislative bill which among other things carries a provision increasing the salary of the secretary to the president from $6,000 to $7,500 a year. A bill was passed enlarging the powers of the public health service, also a bill authorizing the president to make an inquiry into the operations of the so-called match trust; also a bill empowering the secretary of the treasury to issue gold certificates against uncoined gold bullion. The deficiency bill, the last of the supply bills to be passed, was reported from the committee on appropriations.

Mysterious Train Robbery.

Chicago, Feb. 28.—A fast express on the Erie railroad between New York and Chicago was robbed last Saturday. None but express cars were on the train. The Wells Fargo detectives are investigating and do not deny that the packages stolen from one car were worth several thousand dollars.

Has Muncie Car In Speedway Race

C. B. Baldwin, driver of the Inter-State "50," entered in the 500-mile International Sweepstakes Race over the Indianapolis Motor Speedway on Memorial Day, May 30. This is the first big event which the Inter-State has entered, but the car has performed notably in many of the mile track meets throughout Indiana.

FORTUNE FOR VICTORS

AUTO PILOTS WHO WIN LONG RACE TO BE RICH.

Indianapolis Motor Speedway Offers $25,000 in Gold to Winners of International Sweepstakes Event Next Memorial Day

Indianapolis, Ind.—Who wants a salary of $13,140,000.00 a year?

The figures almost stagger the average person who figures that a salary of $2,500 a year is good, yet the use of a little calculation shows that the winner of the 500-mile International Sweepstakes motor race on the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, Memorial Day, May 30, will be drawing a salary of that rate for the time consumed in driving the contest.

The figures would mount much higher if the side money which will be given along with the $25,000 purse is considered. The winner will receive $10,000 from the Speedway while makers of various accessories will contribute about $5,000 additional to his pot of gold and donate liberally to the winners of the other nine prizes offered which total $25,000.

On a mileage basis the winner will receive $20 for every mile driven, and the rate of travel maintained in the race will be about 75 miles per hour. This is the richest offer ever made in the history of automobile racing and is proving a magnet for the greatest pilots in the world. True, the race will be one of the toughest battles ever fought in the cylinder conflict world, for 500 miles is a test supreme of both men and metal, but the gold and glory are greater than the hardships which will be undergone and danger is not an element of consideration by the fearless masters of the motor.

RUBBER TIRES WEAR PAVING

Test Autos at Indianapolis Motor Speedway Make Brick Surface Smooth Through Constant Travel.

Indianapolis, Ind.—Dr. Wadsworth Warren, manager of the Buick racing team, recently paid a visit to the Indianapolis Motor Speedway to investigate the report that the track had become almost perfect under the wear of the test cars. The drivers are preparing for the $25,000 500-mile International Sweepstakes Race at the Speedway, Memorial Day, May 30.

After carefully inspecting the course, especially at the turns, Dr. Warren said:

"I used to think that the brick track was hard on tires and that years of wear would not improve it, but I must say now that the surface appears to be entirely different than it was even last summer at the July race meeting. It was better than at first then, but now I think there is not a superior surface in the country."

STEAM AUTOS MAY RACE.

Indianapolis, Ind.—Steam propelled automobiles are destined to come into their own as far as motor racing is concerned during the 1911 season if the action of the contest board of the American Automobile Association is directed as Chairman S. M. Butler now believes it will be when the rules for the coming season are made public. The consideration of the steam power machine is the outgrowth of a desire evidenced by two or three makers of that kind of automobile to see their product in competition with gasoline cars in the $25,000 International Sweepstakes Race of 500 miles, to be held on the Indianapolis Motor Speedway May 30 next.

FOREIGN AUTOS IN AMERICA.

The foreign made automobile is supplying a part of the higher priced car demand in America, although not as many of the European manufactured machines are sold here now as in the past. Many of the most prominent of these will contest in the 500-mile International Sweepstakes race at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway next Memorial Day.

THE DAY OF THE TRUMP

By M. QUAD

Copyright, 1910, by Associated Literary Press.

One evening after supper Silas Wiggs picked up his hat off the floor and walked out of the house without a word. Mrs. Wiggs did not ask where he was going. She knew. Every week day night for years and years Silas had gone down to the village to loaf and gab for two or three hours. Every night he inquired for mail at the postoffice, and every night he received a shake of the head.

On this evening, however, Silas did something he had never done before. He stopped for a moment to look at his wife and children, as if bidding them farewell.

Mr. Wiggs had come to be forty-eight years old. He had worked all his life. He hadn't broken his back at it, but he had done fairly well for a man who hated work. There were days when he was hoeing corn for some one for $1 a day that he got so mad he jumped up and down and whooped. He wanted to take life easy, but he couldn't. He wanted to have a whole sack of flour and three pounds of butter ahead of the appetite of the family and then go fishing, but the day had never come.

Neither the village postoffice nor the grocery nor the drug store saw Silas that evening nor for many long evenings to come. It was remarked that something must have happened to him. Something bad. On leaving the house he had walked in the opposite direction from the village. He had walked all night and all the next day. In fact, he kept on walking until he was 100 miles away. Then he stopped and got work in a hotel barn for a few weeks. He finally found the man he was looking for, and after several interviews with him Silas put fifty more miles between him and home. Then he sat down in a hamlet in the midst of a rich farming community and got his breath. As soon as rested he announced himself as Abijah, the prophet. He had come there to warn sinners and all others that the last trump was about to sound. He set the day for it to sound. The date had been given him in a dream.

Silas' hair hung down to his shoulders, and he had a venerable appearance and a deep voice. No one around there had ever seen a prophet, but it wasn't long before everybody was agreed that Silas at least looked like one. At first he was laughed at and ridiculed, but that only made him the more earnest. He spoke from the steps of the tavern, and he went from house to house and from farm to farm. He spoke to the women more than to the men. In two weeks he had half a dozen of them with him. Then he found male converts. This was in May. The last trump was to sound on the 4th of August.

In four weeks two-thirds of the population of a county were converts. In six weeks there were only a few outsiders. The weekly papers scoffed at Silas and his dreams and predictions, but he silenced them by asking, "How do you know that this thing won't come to pass?" They didn't know it. They couldn't declare it impossible. They couldn't sneer at the last trump business without offending their Christian subscribers. It was the same with lawyers and doctors. They jumped on Silas to jump off again.

"You believe there is a heaven, don't you?" he would ask.

"Oh, yes."

"Ever been there?"

"Of course not."

"Ever see any one who had?"

"No."

"Then why do you believe?"

"Because the Bible says so."

"But it also says there shall be a judgment day."

"Yes, but why on the 4th of August?"

"Why on any day? Why not on that day as well as another?"

"If the last trump is to sound what of our property?"

"It will be destroyed with the earth, of course," was the reply.

That suited some, but not the majority.

All day on the 3d of August the county held its breath. Farmer and villager put on clean shirts and did no work. It was said that children forgot to cry and that never a rooster crowed. Hundreds of people sat up all that night, going to their doors now and then to consult the heavens.

On the morning of the 4th there was a gathering on hills and knolls and a farewell shaking of hands. People spoke in whispers, and husbands and wives held hands. It was so up to 10 o'clock, to noon, to mid-afternoon, to sundown. Then Silas Wiggs stood up and said to the people around him:

"It has not come and we will disperse, but to hold ourselves in readiness for a week yet. It may be that Gabriel has mistaken the date."

Did they swarm for him? Did they bring out a rail and tar and feathers? Did they go to the courts and cast him into jail? Nothing of the kind for Silas Wiggs. They allowed that there was a mistake somewhere, but it might be Gabriel's fault instead of Mr. Wiggs'. He hung around for a week and then withdrew by daylight, as an honest man should. He said he would dream again and try and have the thing come off on time.

Silas hasn't worked any since. He doesn't have to. His share of the plunder permits him to go fishing all the time, and he never comes home empty handed.

Stones of Ancient Egypt.

A deposit of "peridots" has recently been discovered in Alexandria within a stone's throw of where the Cleopatra's Needle now in Central park, New York, once stood.

These stones, which are amber in color, for many years have been found in large quantities in upper Egypt, but never before in this section of the country. The finder has secured a concession to work the ground and has uncovered several thousands of these stones at a depth not greater than ten feet. It is believed that the peridots were buried in the foundations of houses of the ancient Egyptians and in tombs as an omen of luck.

The stones now found are estimated to have been buried for over 1,500 years. Their value is not great, the price of the stone of the average weight of 3 carats being $1.—Consular Report.

Proper and Common.

"What is the difference," said the teacher, "between a proper noun and a common noun?" The answer was not devoid of logic, but rather unexpected. "A proper noun is a noun used properly, and a common noun is a noun used commonly."—Judge.

The Worrier.

"You must quit worry and take a vacation," said the practitioner.

Washington, Feb. 28.—Dr. H. W. Wiley, chief chemist of the department of agriculture, was married at noon Monday to Miss Anna Campbell Kelton, at the home of the bride's mother in R street. The ceremony was performed in the presence of the members of the family only and was followed by a small reception. After a brief honeymoon the "newlyweds" will be at home to their friends here. The bride is a daughter of the late Adjutant General Kelton and president of the Stanton Equal Suffrage league.

BRIBE OF A MILLION SPURNED BY BRYAN

This Is Belated Story That Comes from Omaha.

Omaha, Neb., Feb. 28.—According to a story in the Omaha World-Herald, W. J. Bryan was offered a bribe of $1,000,000 for his vote while a member of congress. The offer was made while Mr. Bryan was a member of congress during the Cleveland administration. At that time he was on the committee of ways and means. The offer was that Bryan should bring in a minority report on the bill to issue $150,000,000 of bonds payable in gold, principal and interest. The article gives no intimation as to whom the bribe offer came from. The article, which came second-hand to the World-Herald, is credited to a former banker of Lincoln, Neb., who has since died. In substance the story follows:

The banker, while in Washington visiting J. Sterling Morton, then secretary of agriculture, and Mr. Bryan, was approached by two men, whose names are not given, and was offered $30,000 if he would obtain Bryan's consent to kill the minority report on the bill which was then pending. He was authorized to offer Bryan $1,000,000 for the service. If Bryan refused but would agree to absent himself when the bill came up for debate, Bryan was to receive $300,000. The banker refused, but later saw the same two men talking with Bryan. Two hours later Bryan told the banker that he had been offered a bribe of a million dollars and had refused.

"They offered me a bribe of a million not to bring in a minority report on that gold bond issue. I told them to go back to whoever sent them and tell them there is no money enough in Wall street to buy me," Bryan is quoted as saying. "I have no love for the money itself. My salary supplies my very simple wants. I do not know what I would do with the money. It is not the temptation that it would be to many men, and I deserve no credit for refusing."

Bryan cannot be reached to either confirm or deny the article.

A CARRIE NATION CAR

Saloon at Cincinnati Wrecked When Streetcar Plunged Into It.

Cincinnati, Feb. 28.—An empty streetcar on the way to the barn in charge of Motorman Frank Keller, ran wild down the steep descent of Glenway avenue last night, crashed into a saloon owned by Charles Roth and severely injured two men who were sitting at tables in the saloon.

The motorman jumped and escaped injury. The building was damaged to the extent of $1,000 and the saloon was entirely occupied by the streetcar. The car traversed the saloon's entire length of fifty feet and demolished all the furniture and fixtures.

A Statesman's Queer Ambition.

The great Lord Grey had an ambition far above politics. He had passed the reform bill, but that did not satisfy his soul. There was talk of Tagliani, and Grey said quite earnestly, "What would I give to dance as well as she?" The statesman who had been prime minister and had left an indelible mark on the history of his country was envious of an opera dancer!—London Saturday Review.

Backache, Rheumatism, Nervousness.

Mrs. E. T. Schulz, Fort Wayne, Ind., "For three years I have suffered with my kidneys, having such pains in my back that I could not stoop over. My kidney action was too frequent and painful, leaving a sediment. A friend recommended Foley Kidney Pills which I began taking according to directions. After a short time the pains left my back, the kidney action became perfectly normal and today I am a well woman, thanks to Foley Kidney Pills."

A. J. PELLENS.

Quite Deliberate.

"I am glad to say," remarked Mr. Seekton, "that I never spoke a hasty word to you."

"No, Leonidas," answered his wife rather gently: "I'm willing to give you credit for not hurrying about anything."

Pneumonia Follows a Cold.

But never follows the use of Foley's Honey and Tar, which checks the cough and expels the cold. M. Stockwell, Hannibal, Mo., says, "I contracted cold and cough and was threatened with pneumonia. One bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar completely cured me."

A. J. PELLENS.

Injustice.

Wife—I can't see why, because a woman marries a man, she should take his name.

Husband—I quite agree with you. I think that the poor chap ought to have something which he can call his own.—Illustrated Bits.

Speedy Relief From Kidney Trouble.

"I had an acute attack of Bright's disease with inflammation of the kidneys and bladder," says Mrs. Cora Thorp, Jackson, Mich. "A bottle of Foley's Kidney Remedy overcame the attack, reduced the inflammation, took away the pain and made the bladder action normal."

A. J. PELLENS.

His Inheritance.

"And now," said Professor Long as he greeted Henry Peck, "what shall we make of your little boy—a lecturer? He has a taste for it."

"I know he has," replied the male parent; "he inherits the gift from his mother."

Remember the Name.

Foley's Honey and Tar for all coughs and colds, for croup, bronchitis, hoarseness and for racking lagrippe coughs. No opiates. Refuse substitutes. A. J. PELLENS.

Then He Went Mad.

Mildred—Papa, will our new mamma go mad after awhile?

Father—What a question! Why do you think such a thing?

Mildred—Well, I heard her tell the cook yesterday that she got badly bitten when she married you!

Your stomach churns and digests the food you eat. If foul or torpid or out of order, your whole system suffers. Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea makes and keeps the stomach normal—flushes out the bowels, purifies your system.—Andrews-Schwenk Drug Co.

The Opal.

The superstition against the opal began through the stonecutters, each of whom would anxiously ask every other if he had had any luck in his cutting, for the opal contains 13 per cent water and is exceedingly brittle and therefore difficult to cut successfully.

No mercury, no minerals, no dope, no danger in Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. The greatest family tonic known. Brings health and strength to all. Cleans your system of winter germs.—Andrews-Schwenk Drug Co.

SHE GOT WHAT SHE WANTED

This Woman Had to Insist Strongly, but it Paid

Chicago, Ill.—"I suffered from a female weakness and stomach trouble, and I went to the store to get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, but the clerk did not want to let me have it—he said it was no good and wanted me to try something else, but knowing all about it I insisted and finally got it, and I am so glad I did, for it has cured me."

"I know of so many cases where women have been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that I can say to every suffering woman if that medicine does not help her, there is nothing that will."—Mrs. JANETZKI, 2963 Arch St., Chicago, Ill.

This is the age of substitution, and women who want a cure should insist upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound just as this woman did, and not accept something else on which the druggist can make a little more profit.

Women who are passing through this critical period or who are suffering from any of those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of the fact that for thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills. In almost every community you will find women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

SENATE WILL BE THE CAUSE OF IT

If President Calls Extra Session of Congress.

OBSTRUCTION OF THE PROGRAM

Under the Leadership of Senator Hale the Senate Has Permitted an Unprecedented Condition of Affairs to Obtain in That Body, Which Is Jammed With Legislation That Cannot Be Disposed Of.

Washington, Feb. 27.—An unprecedented condition of affairs now obtains in the United States senate. That body is jammed with legislation, certain leaders, notably Senator Hale of Maine, having blocked the orderly dispatch of business with a view of preventing a vote at this session on the Canadian trade agreement. Unless heroic measures are adopted to force action on a dozen pending propositions, the indications are that the agreement will not be the only measure to fall by the wayside. Only six days remain of this session. The two houses will adjourn on Saturday, thus terminating the life of the Sixty-first congress.

Among the measures pending in the senate or yet to be acted upon by that body, there are eleven that carry appropriations to keep the wheels of government in motion. The failure of any one of them would make it necessary for the president to call a special session without regard to the fate of Canadian reciprocity. Incorporated in some of the bills are provisions that have provoked controversies that have tended to further complicate the situation growing out of the bitter factional fight precipitated by the submission of the Canadian agreement to congress.

Hope Not Yet Abandoned.

Mr. Taft has not yet lost hope that the senate will concur in the action of the house, which declared by an overwhelming vote for Canadian reciprocity as laid down in the McCall bill. He is hopeful that the opposition will reach the conclusion this week that while it may delay, it can't defeat the agreement. Friends of the administration have pointed out to the opponents of the McCall bill that the measure will be stronger in the new congress than at present. A number of men who will qualify as senators on March 4 have endorsed the Canadian agreement. The new senators-to-be who have declared for it will, in a number of instances, take the places of those who are identified with the present opposition. Notable among these is Mr. Johnson of Maine, who will succeed Senator Hale; Mr. McLean of Connecticut, who will take the place of Senator Bulkley, and Mr. Bryan of Florida, who is favorable to the bill, who will succeed Senator Tallaferrero. Representative Poindexter of Washington will transfer his activities to the senate on March 4.

Proceeding on the theory that it would be necessary for him to convene the lawmakers in special session, the president is making his arrangements accordingly. If the senate adjourns next Saturday without coming to a vote on the Canadian agreement the president will in due season issue a proclamation for a special session to begin in April.

LET HIM GO

No Charge Brought Against Man Who Got Free Ride From New York.

Lexington, Ky., Feb. 27.—Ples Viall, a former soldier, who impersonated "King" McNamara in New York and was returned to Lexington five weeks ago in custody of Deputy Sheriffs Wilkerson and Wilson, has been released from the county jail. An effort was made to hold him to the grand jury on the charge of having obtained his trip to Lexington under false pretenses, but Justice Ben D. Bell decided that Viall had not committed any offense within the jurisdiction of the Kentucky courts, and ordered his release.

MEXICAN INSURGENTS DECLINE COMPROMISE

Overtures for Secret Conference Spurned.

Washington, Feb. 27.—Francisco Vasquez Gomez, the representative here of the Mexican insurgents, has given an interview declaring that the revolutionists will not lay down their arms until they are successful. He said the insurrectionists could not accept the offer of Jose R. Limantour, minister of finance of Mexico, who in an interview in Paris several days ago suggested the revolutionists lay down their arms and trust to the government for fair treatment.

Senor Vasquez said that President Diaz had been in power far too long and that the people of Mexico are opposed to the oligarchy which has grown up among his advisers. He said that the insurgents would not lay down their arms and trust to the government for redress of their wrongs. It is said here by representatives of the insurgent party that the Mexican government has sent a commission from Mexico City to the border to treat secretly with the insurgents in a hope of ending the present revolution. It was added, however, that the insurgents would not agree to a secret discussion of terms of settlement.

Senor Vasquez is one of the most prominent persons in Mexico and was formerly personal physician to President Diaz.

MUST GIVE IT BACK

Loot From Wrecked Cars Called in by the Authorities.

Jeffersonville, Ind., Feb. 27.—Many men of Sellersburg and vicinity, who thought they had a good chance to provide their wives with the most stunning millinery, dirt cheap, have found that they must give up the property. Following the wreck of a freight train near the town, two weeks ago, when ten cars were piled up, two containing nothing but choice millinery, much booty was gathered up. The word went out that the articles must be returned, and twenty hats, valued at $20 each, have already been returned to the company.

Bristol, Tenn., Feb. 27.—Sam Senter and John Rogers, alleged to have been implicated in the murder of Arvillas Howell, aged forty-two years, on Bold Camp mountain in Dickinson county, Virginia, have been arrested near Pound Gap, on the Virginia-Kentucky border.

Howell's headless body was discovered in the mountains a few days ago, where he had been robbed and murdered.

Says It Was Accidental.

Somerset, Ky., Feb. 27.—George Spencer, acquitted on the charge of murder in connection with the killing of Green Lewis several years ago, has again been brought to Somerset by officers, having shot and killed his wife at their home in this county. Spencer says the shooting was accidental.

Instantly Killed by Buzz Saw.

Aurora, Ind., Feb. 27.—William Meyers, aged thirty years, was instantly killed while working in a saw-mill. Meyers was adjusting the dogs of the carrier when his foot slipped and he was thrown onto the saw. His body was badly mutilated.

Automobilist Must Pay.

Anderson, Ind., Feb. 27.—A jury in the circuit court found for the defendant in the suit in which George Thomas, a nine-year-old boy, asked damages in the sum of $5,000 from Elmer Delawter, who ran the boy down in his automobile.

Over the Water

Story of a Wedding on St. Patrick's Day

By F. A. MITCHEL

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

There is a small island called Tory, on the coast of Ireland, about which hangs many a picturesque legend. The islanders are all fishermen. In olden times Tory was a lonely place and a hard place to get to and from. No priest lived there. The islanders were all good Catholics, and not to have a priest handy to baptize them, to marry them and to shrive them subjected them to constant trials.

The only sacred thing they had was the "nun's grave." Long ago during a storm the body of a nun was washed up on the island. That was the first time the people there saw a nun's habit. The leathern girdle and beads made them think that there was something sacred about the body. They prayed to be instructed what to do with it, and a voice told them that it was the body of a holy nun and they must bury it where they had found it. They did so, and to this day not a boat ever puts out to fish without a handful of earth from the "nun's grave" to preserve the fishermen from drowning.

Many years ago there lived on Tory island a young fisherman named Fergus Tyrone and a fisher lass named Eileen O'Connor. They were a simple couple, growing up in a small compass and loving each other with that fervor which is to be found in those who live lives close to nature. They were of the same age, having both been born on St. Patrick's day. Fergus, though but twenty years of age at the time the incident I am about to narrate took place, was a hardy young fellow and, however stormy the weather, never feared to go out to fish in his boat when any other craft was on the water. But Eileen did not fear for him, because she would never let him go without first taking a handful of earth and, after praying the holy nun to protect him, depositing it in the stern of his boat.

This simple couple wished to be married on their twentieth birthday, which was St. Patrick's day, of course, and Fergus had induced a priest from the mainland to agree to come over on that day and marry them. Fergus was to row over in his boat early in the morning of the wedding day, take the priest to the island and bring him back after the ceremony had been performed.

Several days before St. Patrick's day the lovers began to watch the sky for indications of what the weather would be. They feared it might be stormy and the priest would not come over, and if they could not be married on that St. Patrick's day Eileen, whose heart was set on celebrating their birthday, their wedding day and St. Patrick's day together, was resolved that they must wait till the next anniversary, which would be a year.

So as the days grew less before the appointed wedding day they watched every weather sign in the heavens and prayed constantly for smooth waters that there might be no trouble in bringing the priest over to marry them. But, whether, as Fergus believed, he had omitted some penance that he should have done or, as Eileen believed, she had not prayed often enough, on the evening of the 16th of March a dark cloud appeared in the west and a wind began to rise.

In the morning, though the water was quite rough, Fergus said he would go over and see if the father would come with him. So, while he went for the oars, Eileen brought some earth from the "nun's grave," dropped it in the boat with a prayer, and Fergus, returning, started for the mainland.

He found the good father resolved not to go with him. He might be obliged to remain a long while on the island, and what would his flock do in the meanwhile without him?

"But I'll marry you all the same, Fergus, my boy," he said. "Go back to Eileen, and when it is noon come down to the shore. I will go out on to the Hornhead and read the service."

"But how shall we know what you are saying?" asked Fergus.

Then the priest told him that when the service was begun a fire would be lighted. At another part another fire would be lighted, and so on till a given number of fires denoted that the service was finished and the couple had been pronounced man and wife.

Fergus, overjoyed, started back for the island. The wind had risen, and Eileen, who stood watching on the shore, feared that every wave would overturn the boat. When it came near enough for her to see that the priest was not in it her heart misgave her, but even before Fergus had made fast he told her of how they were to be married after all.

Shortly before the noon hour a wedding party stood on the shore of Tory island watching for a fire on Hornhead, a projecting point of rock on the mainland. When they saw a flame burst forth they uncovered and knelt and watched eagerly for the next fire, which was to mark a new part of the service. It was an impressive sight, this bridal party kneeling on the beach upon which wave after wave rolled in, as though to crown the bride with a veil composed of their own spray. Between them and the priest on the Hornhead the whitecaps came rolling toward the bride as if to offer themselves as an adornment for her bridal dress. Fire after fire appeared, each denoting that a new part of the service had been reached, till at last one far brighter than all the rest was lighted, and a sound of wedding bells came over the water.

MOTORS, BUT SHEDS SHOES.

Kansas Enthusiast Declines Dropping His Old Customs Entirely.

Moses Williams of Emporia, Kan., is seventy years old and progressive, but there are some good old customs that he declines to discard. Because he is the owner of a fine automobile he cannot see why he should wear shoes in the summer time, a custom which he has not practiced since boyhood. Nor is the fact that his wealth is estimated at from $100,000 to $300,000 sufficient in his mind to justify the extravagance of shoes.

It might appear to some people that caressing the brake on a motorcar with a bare foot would not be pleasant.

MOSES WILLIAMS OF EMPORIA, KAN.

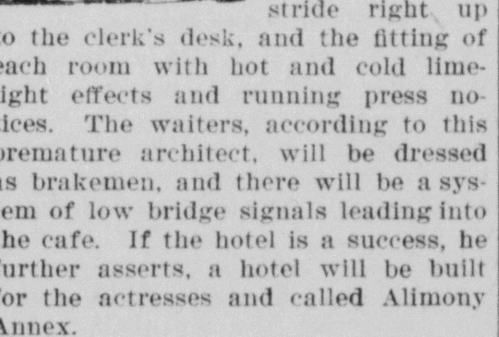

but Williams does not agree with them and his pedal negligee is a familiar sight in Emporia.

Although this Kansan considers this practice a saving of at least $2.50 a year, he finds no extravagance in owning and operating a motorcar. He lives in Emporia, but gives close attention to the well being of his several fine nearby farms, and he finds that the motor saves him time and money. Moreover, the auto has no insatiable cravings for alfalfa, worth $14 a ton.

Real Actors' Hotel Planned.

The announcement that an organization which seeks to bring the church and the stage into closer relations is contemplating the erection of a $500,000 hotel in New York for "resting"—i. e., stranded and indigent actors—has excited varied comments.

One burlesque comedian is alleged to have described the plans as embracing such features as a flooring in the main corridor made of railroad ties, so that incoming guests could maintain their regular stride right up to the clerk's desk, and the fitting of each room with hot and cold lime-light effects and running press notices. The waiters, according to this premature architect, will be dressed as brakemen, and there will be a system of low bridge signals leading into the cafe. If the hotel is a success, he further asserts, a hotel will be built for the actresses and called Alimony Annex.

EXALTS MILLION ELEPHANTS.

New Order Is Founded by King of the Laos.

Seekers of insignia decorations have begun reading up on the king of Laos and his domain, for that monarch has announced installation of a new order with a high sounding title and a novel badge of membership. The conditions of bestowal, however, have not been made public. The society is termed the Order of the Million Elephants and the White Umbrella, and its origin is connected with the veneration which the so called white elephant of Siam always arouses among natives of that and surrounding countries.

The king of the Laos territory is a young man and holds his position by reason of French protection largely. His domain, some 116,000 miles square in extent, is in the northern part of Siam, and different portions of it are controlled by France and England.

The decoration is in gold and white and green enamel, and the ribbon is red ornamented with old gold.
